FOREWORD

Feeling that all the readers of this LAUREL are interested in the history of Mars Hill College, the Editors have endeavored to depict, in the opening pages and at intervals throughout the book, some of the high lights in the events that have transpired since its founding in 1856.

Seventy years ago Edward Carter, W. P. Anderson, and other foresighted and God-fearing citizens of this little mountain community dreamed of an institution in which their children could not only be taught the "Readin', Writin', and 'Rithmetic" of that day—but could also be brought up in the fear and admonition of the Lord, in the tenets of their own religious faith. This vision was realized in the completion of a building, and school opened with Dr. W. A. G. Brown, first President, and Mr. W. P. Rollins, father of Thomas S. Rollins, attorney of Asheville, as first student.

Thus the torch of Christian education was lighted in Western North Carolina. It shed its rays to all parts of this state and adjoining states. The financial stress of the first few years called for much sacrifice on the part of friends and Trustees. At one time Joe, a slave of W. P. Anderson, was held in an Asheville prison as security on the indebtedness.

During the darkened days of the Civil War and Reconstruction Period, the torch flickered and waned. In 1863 the building was used for quartering soldiers and later for an orphanage. Many hardships and struggles marked the varied success of its history for the next thirty years.

In 1897, when the beloved R. L. Moore became President, the institution took on that life which has brought forth a realization of the dreams of its founders. In all of its progress there has been no departure from their ideals and principles—a steadfastness to the Old Book.

DEDICATION

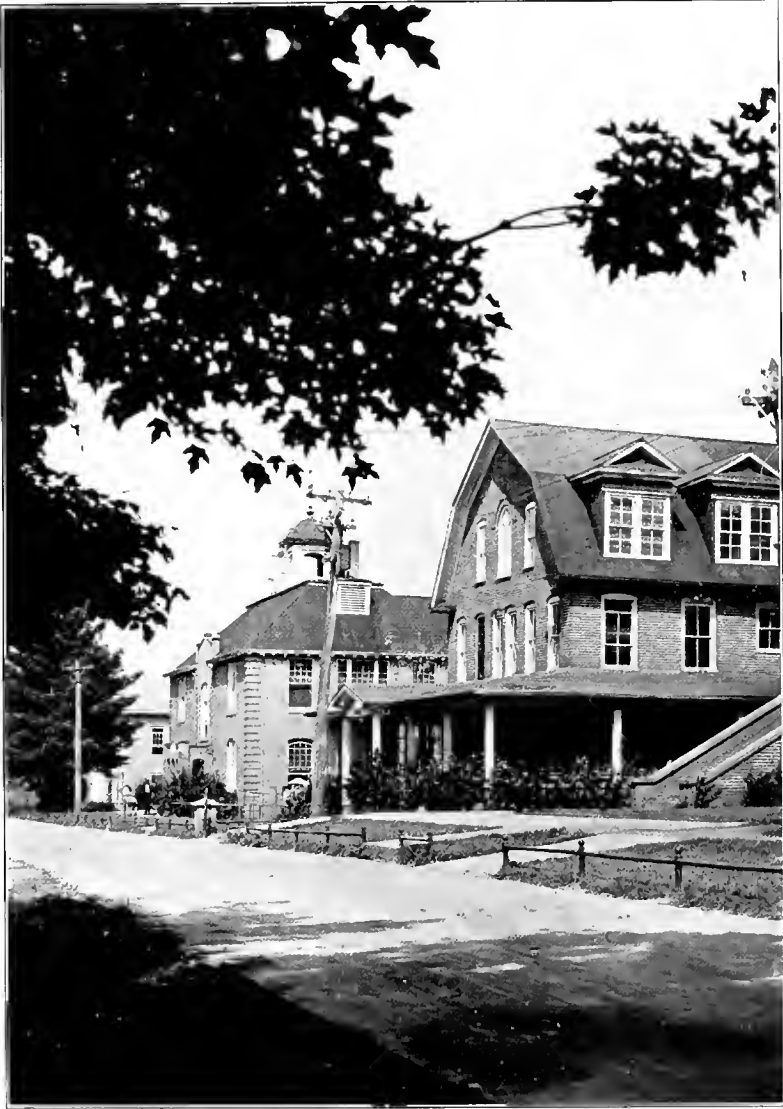

To Dr. B. W. Spilman, as a mere token of our love and appreciation for him, we dedicate this 1930 edition of the Laurel. Only through the greatest sacrifice has this man of God been able to help in the upbuilding of Mars Hill; yet he has given, willingly and liberally. The Raymond Pollock Spilman Home for girls, now known as Treat, was his first contribution in memory of his son. He is regarded as father of Mars Hill girls. Recently he has manifested his devoted interest by giving a $1,000 Loan Fund in memory of his wife.

LITTLE MISS JANE ELLIOTT

There is a charm in her shy little smile that warms the hearts of all who know her, and there is a sparkle in her great blue eyes that draws a stranger to her. She is just a tiny bundle of winsomeness, but she is a mass of happiness to all who have felt the warmth of her tiny white hands. We have no greater honor to give her—other than to call her ours. She is our mascot.

IN MEMORY
WILLIAM C. WAGONER

In memory of W. C. Wagoner, a fellow-student, who left us November 23, 1929. Though he was of a quiet nature, his regular attendance at religious services, his diligent work in both Literary society and classes has made his place hard to fill. But the blessed Christ who whispered "peace" to the troubled waters of Galilee has whispered "peace" to the soul of our departed friend, and there his tired eyes have opened to the light of blissful immortality.

The Language Club draws its members from the Department of Languages and the Department of Bible. The languages include English, French, Spanish, German, Greek, and Latin. Those students eligible for the Language Club must make an excellent grade on all language and Bible courses. The student's moral standing and general deportment are also conditions of eligibility. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in the field of Literature and Art. The programs are always planned upon a high literary standard.

THE "BULL" OF THE CAMPUS!

MR. WESTON: "You ought to brace up and show your wife who is running things at your house."

MR. RAMPEY: "It isn't necessary, she knows."

OLD LADY: "I am looking for my little Fido."

CARL BROWN: "Then don't stand there and stare at me. Do I look like him?"

OLD LADY: "No, Fido had little ears."

MR. KIRSTIEN: "Didn't some brainless idiot propose to you before we were married?"

MRS. KIRSTIEN: "Yes."

MR. KIRSTIEN: "I wish to goodness you had married him."

MRS. KIRSTIEN: "I did."

MISS ALLEN: "Can you graft an apple twig to a pine tree?"

VAL EDWARDS: "I suppose you can."

MISS ALLEN (smiling to herself): "What would you get?"

VAL: "Pineapple trees, of course."

MISS GREGG: "If you had the power to talk to animals, what would be the first thing you would say?"

GRABON JORDAN: "I'd say, skunk, what is the big idea?"

FRANK DALE: "You have a great many bum jokes in the LAUREL."

GRAVES MUMFORD: "Oh, I don't know—I put a bunch of them in the stove and the fire just roared."

PAUL HUNDLEY (placing a bowl of soup on the counter): "It looks like rain."

YARBOROUGH: "Yes it does, and it tastes like it too; take it away."

DEAN CARR: "I call my 7:30 class the pullman class, because it has three sleepers and an observation section."

MR. HUFF: "Yes, I call my Virgil class the pony express."

MR. LEE: "Holmes, what is a one-way street?"

HOLMES: "It is a street where the motorist is bumped from the rear only."

TOM DYSARD (twenty years in the future): "There, son, you have the story of your dad and the great war."

SON: "Yes, daddy, but why did they need all the other soldiers?"

MISS COON: "If you want to make a hit, you must sing louder."

WADE BAKER: "I am singing as loud as I can."

MISS COON: "Well, open your mouth and throw yourself into it."

DOCTOR: "Have you led a normal college life?"

CAPEL: "Yes sir."

DOCTOR: "Just as I thought, you will have to give up smoking and drinking and get more sleep."

ENA SNOW: "How can I drive a nail without hitting my hand?"

JOE WEBB: "Hold the hammer with both hands."

DE HASTY: "May I come again tomorrow night, dear?"

MARGARET: "Yes, dear but er—er—"

DE HASTY: "What is the matter dear, you look worried?"

MARGARET: "I know you didn't mean to, but next time please don't wear those stiff collars. They scratch so."

AND IT SHALL COME TO PASS IN 1999

Frank Dale will no longer be familiar around the Bursar's office.
Carl Brown will go with more than one girl.
"H₂O" Juredine will have a class in which everybody makes over ninety.
Scott Buck will cease his weekly visits to Marion.
Paul Hundley will coach "bull shooting" at Harvard.
Boys and girls will have dates at movies.
Mr. Elliott will accept "bull" on his C-2 English.
Jim Cherry will still be griping.
Mars Hill College will have spring holidays.
Miss Bowden will use lip-stick.
Faculty football team will beat Yale.
Miss Pierce will be on a short list.
Arthur Lynch will go on the "Soup Line."
Creasman Brown will explain why they call him "Pigeon."
A swinging bridge will connect the boys' dormitories to the campus.
Mr. Blackwell will give dancing lessons.
Mars Hill College will not have a "Distinguished" list.
Ned Jarrett will find the lost thirty.
Dean Lee will fail to address his class as "AN-T-A now young people."
Barton Owen will pull one over on De Forest Hasty.
Ned Jarrett will get a patent on cough syrup as a hair tonic.
James Cherry will skip the "Soup Line" and go home.
Bill Sutton will be elected fire chief at Forks of Ivy.
De Forest Hasty and Margaret Wilson will live in the "House by the Side of the Road."
Tom Dysard will be living happily, sharing his fatherly love among his twenty children.
A. B. Parker will play the leading part in "Little Women."
Jessie Owen will cease to flirt in chemistry lab.
Some one will be loved more by the boys than Mother Millstead.
Virginia Isenhour will be with her lover at Concord.

DUMB AND HOW

Ed Fox thinks that if a rubber plant was grafted to a banana tree, it would produce non-skid banana peels.
Scott Buck wonders how telephone poles grow in a straight line.
Virginia Isenhour thinks H₂O Juredine's mustache is a modern coffee strainer.
Cland Royal took his girl to the Virginia Beach to get a permanent wave.
Elliott Harrell thinks bacteria is the back door to a cafeteria.
Preston Hollowell thinks "General Delivery" fought in the world war.
Leonard England thinks a water jacket has sleeves in it.
Regan undresses, gets in a bath tub, and then forgets what he is there for.
Every time De Hasty thinks, it causes a grey spot in his hair; he has only one.
Creasman Brown thinks P.D.Q. is a degree given at college.

MEREDITH COLLEGE

RALEIGH, N. C.

OFFERS YOUNG WOMEN THREE DISTINCT ADVANTAGES:

1. It is recognized as a Standard College by the Southern Association of Colleges, by the Association of American Universities, and by the American Association of University Women.
2. It is a small College—student body of 500—large enough for enthusiasm, but small enough for students and teachers all to be good friends.
3. It is a Christian College—with Christian atmosphere and motive and freedom.

BUILDERS DREAMS

VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.

It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to interpret the ideas of the Staff and create in material form their vision.

From the art work and engravings to the finished book, this volume is the result of organized coöperation with the Staff.

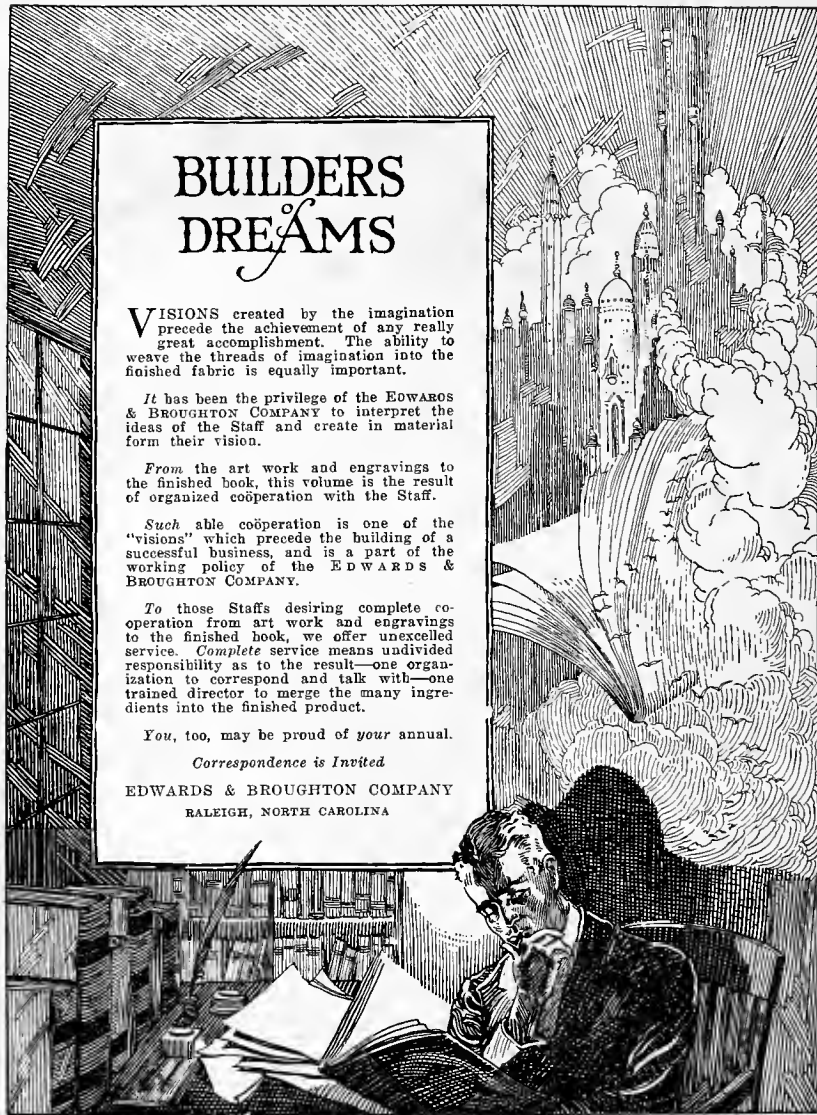

Such able coöperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.

To those Staffs desiring complete coöperation from art work and engravings to the finished book, we offer unexcelled service. Complete service means undivided responsibility as to the result—one organization to correspond and talk with—one trained director to merge the many ingredients into the finished product.

You, too, may be proud of your annual.
